

Smiley Faces

Description	Three large sheets of paper one with smiley, blank and miserable faces. Children have stickers to put on the face they feel summarises their feelings about any subject discussed.
Age Range	2+
Time	20 minutes
Cost	Cost of paper and stickers
Benefits	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Quick feedback on subjects</li> <li>- Children can work as a team or individually</li> <li>- Encourages the children to spend some time reflecting on what they like and dislike</li> <li>- Links to making a positive contribution, maths, personal social and emotional development and a skilful communicator</li> </ul>
Drawbacks	Children may put stickers on all faces and so may not give valid results
Other info	Can vary the activity depending on the age of children. Children can draw their own happy/sad faces and have narrative to explain why. Could have three large jars/containers what children could decorate each one as happy, sad or indifferent then all the children are given a ball and the topic is discussed and they place their ball in the container which mirrors their feelings.
