To whom it may concern

Re: Application no: CYC-066458 Event Coordin8

Miss Donna Harper rents land on our property at Willow House where she has sited the Salix yurts which are used for her business to host weddings and other functions. I live in the house on site, which is situated quite closely to the yurts, and have never been disturbed by any noise or rowdy behaviour from any of Miss Harper's customers.

As one of the owners of Willow House Caravan Park, where our visitors stay with us for a peaceful caravan holiday, I would not condone any noise or disturbance. We are a peaceful site with mainly older visitors. Children are not permitted on our caravan park nor are same sex groups as we value the peaceful atmosphere our customers come to enjoy. As my residence and our caravan park are situated between the yurts and our furthest boundary with the housing at Haxby I would have been aware of any nuisance had it occurred in the past. Our close neighbours at Brecks Farm also have never complained regarding any noise. Recently Miss Harper has also added soundproofing to the yurts as an extra precaution against such nuisance occurring.

We believe that Miss Harper's business, which has always been run in a proficient and professional manner, is an asset to our local area. Visitors attending weddings and other functions are likely to stay in the area and help boost other business as we all try to recover from the Corona virus lockdown period and therefore we hope that her application is viewed favourably.

Yours faithfully,

David Pulleyn

Noise fears over planned York wedding venue

By Chloe Laversuch @chloelaversuch Local Democracy Reporter

12 comments

FEARS have been raised that a wedding and events venue could be too noisy for neighbours - with concerns raised by householders living on the other side of a wood.

Willow House Caravan Park on Wigginton Road has applied for a licence to serve alcohol and play music until 1am at weddings at its Salix Yurts, based at the entrance to the site.

The licensing application says the yurts will be soundproofed, there is a fenced area around the site and events would take place three to four times a month.

Police and City of York Council's public protection team have not objected to the licence. The venue has been used for events since April 2018 but on a temporary permit.

But a number of residents living in Sandringham Close in Haxby, more than 760 metres away, have raised concerns about the licence.

According to council licensing documents, one resident wrote: "I'm sorry but living on Sandringham Close we are in the direct line of fire for all the noise, so it is a definite no from me."

Another said: "We all know how sound travels and it would not only affect Sandringham Close but many other streets in the area as well."

Wigginton Parish Council also has worries about the plans. A letter from the clerk says: "There are concerns that the period of supply from 11am to 1am is extremely excessive and could in some circumstances and with some organised groups or function lead to serious anti social behaviour problems."

But the owner of the venue has written to residents to reassure them, saying all music would be indoors after 9pm with windows and doors shut, and that there has never been a problem with nuisance guests.

They add: "It has been necessary to apply for a premises licence due to the number of wedding receptions postponed in 2020 due to Covid-19.

"With bookings already in place for 2021 we would exceed the maximum number of temporary event notices and leave a number of bride and grooms very disappointed after already suffering stress and loss from the cancellation of their big day this year."

The licensing hearing takes place on Thursday at 10am at youtube.com/user/cityofyorkcouncil.

4If only the licence would be swiftly revisited in the light of any complaints, people would be more willing to give it a chance. As it is, no wonder they're fighting tooth and claw against it, as they'll be stuck with the problem forever if it's as bad as it could easily be. I don't think any of us would enjoy this on our doorsteps - even if the music is quiet, there will be drunk people outside shouting at each other most of the night.

They are weddings. Generally happy occasion. I think you've had enough time on your hands to watch my big fat gypsy wedding

Not many neighbours of Willow House.

- Jackie Smith There's virtually no houses close by - maybe the other wedding venue just down the road doesn't like the competition

- Sharon Jagger I am one of the neighbours near the woods , and we can't hear anything at all .. infact my neighbours who also back on to the beck have no objection to their plans ..we can't even hear the other venue, and we are the nearest to it ..

- Jayde Kelsey Glavocih It's been used for weddings for a couple of years anyway?

APPENDIX K – LETTER OF SUPPORT FROM LAURA PARKIN & PHILLIP ROEBUCK

To whom it may concern,

We are two York citizens having lived in the city for a combined eight years and currently live just off Haxby Road.

We both work in the tourism and events industry in the city.

One of us has worked with Louisiana's in the past in professional contexts and we became aware of the Salix Yurts as we were looking to hire an events venue.

We fully support the licence application as we believe that York deserves and needs venues of this type and that the existence of the Salix Yurts just outside of York is an asset to the city, especially in these trying times. The wedding and events sector will bring a welcome boost to York next year and so limiting the capacity of a fantastic and versatile venue would not be the right decision.

Additionally the standards of professionalism shown by the Salix Yurts and Louisiana's team have been impeccable and we are confident as locals that they will work with the community to avoid any potential problems.

Yours sincerely,
Laura Parkin and Philip Roebuck
