4. FORMER RENT ARREARS WRITE OFF DEBTS OVER £5000

Resolved: That Former Tenant Arrears over £5000 be written off on the understanding that if necessary they can be re-instated at a later date.

Reason: It is considered good financial practice to write off uncollectable debts so that they do not count against the bad debt provision within the Housing Revenue Account. Debts can be written back onto a customer's account if they come to the attention of Housing Services in the future and will be applied against policies which consider housing related debt.
