Scrutiny of Access to Footstreets - Final Report and Recommendations

Purpose of report

1. The purpose of this report is to present the final report from the Scrutiny Committee on their scrutiny of Access to Footstreets in the city centre and to ask the Executive to agree their recommendations.

Background

2. In May 2002 a small Scrutiny Committee was set up to look at access to the footstreets in the city centre. The Committee drafted an interim report in July of this year but were unable to formally agree their final report before they were disbanded as part of the new constitutional arrangements. The report has therefore been considered and endorsed by the Transport Scrutiny Board before being presented to the Executive.

Implications of the recommendations

3. In producing their final report, the Members of the Committee have not carried out a detailed analysis of the financial, legal and resource implications of all the recommendations. Therefore all these implications would need to be considered as part of any further work in progressing the recommendations before any final decisions can be made.

Recommendations

4. The Executive are asked to agree the recommendations from scrutiny set out in the Executive Summary in Annex A.
