Police Inspector 1463 Andrew Godfrey
North Yorkshire Police

Re: Premises Licence Application for Stones Roses, King Street York.

1. I am Police Inspector 1463 GODFREY, the Neighbourhood Policing Inspector for York city centre, a role I have performed for the last 5 years. The majority of my 17 year policing career has been spent in both uniform and plain clothed roles within the city centre therefore I believe that I have a good understanding of the policing issues associated with the city. I am also a trained Public Order Commander and Police Bronze Incident Commander.
2. My current Neighbourhood Policing Inspector's role involves managing a team of Police officers and Police Community Support Officers (PCSO's) who are responsible for delivering policing services in the city centre. An important aspect of my role is to make sure that North Yorkshire Police is alive to issues effecting those who live, work and socialise in the city.
3. York is an attractive tourist destination. In partnership with both statutory and non-statutory agencies we work tirelessly to ensure that it stays that way. Together we resolve a diverse range of issues to keep York safe and to maintain law and order.
4. The city comprises of a wide range of shops, bars, restaurants and tourist attractions. People from all over the world visit York to experience what the city has to offer. Many of city's bars, restaurants and shops are concentrated in close proximity to one another. In recent years there has been a noticeable decline in the number of retail units, a void that has been filled by new licensed premises and restaurant openings e.g. Robson and Cooper family leather specialist on Lendal, which after 170 years has closed and is now The House of Trembling Madness, Mali Unisex Barbers on Whip ma Whop Ma Gate which is to become a Bar, Plunketts, High Petergate which is now the Eagle and Child pub. Fellini's Italian restaurant, which is now the Hop, McDonalds Furniture store which is Cosy Club, Army and Navy Store which is Sutlers all on Fossgate. Portfolio studio's on Micklegate which is now Brewdog, Jessops camera store which is now Pavement Vaults and Mulberry Hall which is now The Botanist. Licensed premises occupying empty retail units on traditional retail streets has created a clash between shoppers / tourists and those intent on using the city centre to drink to excess. This is particularly evident during the day at weekends.

5. My team are actively engaged with partner agencies in dealing with many issues across the city centre. In the McDonalds area on Blake Street we often receive reports of anti-social behaviour & violent offences from people converging at the only 24 hour food establishment during the early hours of the morning.

6. Violence in the night-time economy is a legitimate concern for the city centre. A multi-agency group, chaired by myself, manages the night time economy with violent crime is being addressed through a multi-agency initiative called Operation SAFARI. Whilst the group meets on a regular basis the issues are difficult to tackle as the crime is so widespread, partly due to the dispersal of licensed premises throughout the city centre. The River Ouse, another 'hot spot', requires attention due to number of people who have lost their lives, a number where alcohol was a contributory factor. This continues to be an issue and people are often found in this location who are depressed and in need of help. In response to the issues with river safety a multi-agency group was formed to improve safety and address education and other physical measures to reduce vulnerability. North Yorkshire Fire and Rescue Service spearhead this initiative. Partners such as York Rescue boat have proved to be a great addition to the city. They regularly locate vulnerable people in and around the river. We do seem to be experiencing more people in need of help after drinking in the city centre. Whilst the river boat is a good addition they can only work limited hours and so are not always available.

7. In recent years York has become an attractive destination for Stag and Hen do's and groups of individual's intent on having a good time whilst drinking copious amounts of alcohol. This is particularly noticeable throughout the day at weekends. People arrive in the city, many by train having been drinking since 9am, and then continue to drink all day. The problem is that many licensed premises are located in the middle of shopping and tourist areas of the city. This is best illustrated on a Saturday afternoon in Coney Street where you will find people under the influence of alcohol clashing with family's, shoppers and tourists. Coney Street is one of York's busiest streets and is often full of people making their way between shops. The behaviour displayed by groups include being loud, abusive and aggressive which is intimidating for others. People staggering around unsteady on their feet bumping into members of the public and into the road. The city has experienced large groups of females walking around with inappropriate inflatables often depicting genitalia for all to see. These behaviours have led to people feeling unsafe in the city and some have vowed not to return on a Saturday. I am also aware of visitors to the city having bad experiences and complaining about the change in dynamic of the city centre with more people under the influence of alcohol due to the increased number of bars in the city centre. One such couple expressed that they were so disappointed with how York had changed they said they would not return after many consecutive yearly visits.

8. The problems in York city centre regarding intoxication are further exacerbated on York race days. The levels of drunken people in the city corresponds to the marked increase in reported crime and anti-social behaviour. Granting this licence will simply add to the existing problems. The Cumulative Impact Zone is already saturated with bars.
9. In response to the issues faced in York on a Saturday a multi-agency group was formed under the Operation name "ERASE" This group set about a raft of measures to try and address the concerns of both the public and the licensed trade. The Operation has had some limited success & licensee's agreed a Code of Conduct to tackle inappropriate behaviour. However despite these efforts large groups of people still visit the city with the sole intention to drink, have a good time and cause anti-social behaviour which is having a negative impact on the quality of life for residents and tourists. I believe that many of the incidents of anti-social behaviour go unreported as the public do not feel them worthy of reporting. These people then leave York having had a bad experience leaving negative posts on social media to the detriment of the city's reputation. The Police and partner agencies stance on any ASB or crime is that it will not be tolerated, but we cannot be everywhere all of the time.
10. The Stone Roses bar markets itself as a 'party venue' related to 80's 90's indie band music. The bar is a vertical drinking venue with no hot or cold food on offer for patrons other than snacks such as crisps etc. The venue is marketed to attract patrons wishing to consume quantities of alcohol through special offers or discounted prices, including promotional student evenings, with adverts such as 4 for £10 and trebles for £2.75.

This is highly likely to attract consumers to the venue to drink copious amounts of alcohol, resulting in additional calls for service relating to alcohol fuelled disorder, in an area already experiencing high demand due to the amount of licensed premises within a condensed area.

I receive a monthly report from the Police licensing team with regards to premises in the city centre with the most calls for service, to assist me in the work I undertake for Op Erase and Op Safari, referred to above, and to address alcohol fuelled disorder within York.

The Stone Roses Bar has featured in this report every month since June 2018, with an increased rate of calls for service, many of which are in the early hours of the morning when Police resources are stretched to meet demand elsewhere. Police data shows the venue has contributed to Anti-social behaviour and Crime within the Cumulative Impact Zone within the last six months. Nothing in the current application seeks to offer any additional provision to mitigate the Prevention of Crime and disorder or Public Nuisance, thereby promoting the licensing objectives.

This application for the Premises to be granted a Licence to supply alcohol seven days a week until 0200hrs, in my opinion will continue to contribute to Alcohol fuelled disorder and crime within the city and place an increased demand on the emergency services.

Signed Inspector Andrew Godfrey
