Comments

What did you learn and how do you expect to use it?	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Introduction to Adult Social Services work in this area was very useful• Clarified areas of understanding• I needed to understand the personalisation agenda better so that I can talk to residents with more understanding
Is the training session enough for your requirements? Do you need further training?	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Will follow this up with the department• Possible follow up• Would be useful to have an update, especially on the health budgets personalisation agenda• No• Think there should be a follow up which is more detailed
Other comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Pleasant, interactive session – very useful• Well presented; good content• Clear and informative• A very interesting and useful session• It was good of the presenter to step in at such short notice – he did a good job and is obviously au fait with the topic• A decent introduction to a complex subject• The presenter had to stand in at the last minute• A bit superficial for the complexity of the subject• It was a good introduction to a very broad subject

Session 12

Date: 3rd February 2012

Course Title: Regional Training – Scrutiny Questioning Skills

Number of attendees: 5 (this was a regional event and places were limited)

Number of Evaluation Forms Returned: 2 - Local Government Yorkshire & Humber who organised this event handed out their own forms – a summary of comments received by York Councillors who attended is below

% Councillors attending: N/A

Comments received

- A well presented session
- Hopefully addressed the development needs of the Council insofar as it deals with or not Scrutiny. As chair of SMC I have tried hard over the past few years to make Scrutiny in York more effective. I found the presentation very good and I felt I had learned a number of things
- Concerns regarding how scrutiny is undertaken in York resulting in a request to invite Tim Young from the Centre for Public Scrutiny to train Councillors in York
